PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

The Result still in Doubt.

[illegible] Board Threatened by Kuklux

The Count not yet Commenced.

Hayes' Prospects Bright.

[illegible] to be President of the Senate?

[illegible] York, Nov 17—The person who suggested there was great anxiety to make Blaine [illegible] of the Senate so that in case of [illegible] he could be President after the 4th of [illegible] happened not to remember that [illegible] term will expire on the 4th of [illegible] that he could not be made president [illegible] of the Senate this winter and hold over [illegible] Congress by reason of the expiration [illegible] with this Congress Ferry is in [illegible] position, and after the counting of [illegible] will be likely to resign as president [illegible] of the Senators not expiring next [illegible] be elected, otherwise there will [illegible] in office

[illegible] of the Diplomats.

[illegible] Nov. 17—A Tribune's New Or[illegible] speaking of the Republicans [illegible] the Democrats' invitation says the [illegible] and sent to the Demo[illegible] On receiving the document [illegible] once called a meeting and [illegible] a replication immediately The [illegible] to prepare it consisted of Trum[illegible] [illegible] and Ottendorfer.

[illegible] says it is the talk on the street to [illegible] no Democrat will serve who may be [illegible] some present member of the [illegible] to resign and make a place [illegible]

Kuklux.

[illegible] York, Nov. 17.—The Times New O[illegible] [illegible] nothing of importance oc[illegible] day. A letter opened by the return[illegible] [illegible] one, postmarked [illegible] addressed to J Madison Wells [illegible]. The letter read as follows

[illegible] That we take upon ourselves [illegible] of redeeming Louisiana, our mother [illegible] the thieves and parasites now prey[illegible] [illegible] and bleeding body We [illegible] to our Northern brethren in [illegible] to act in her behalf [illegible] and despoilers such a [illegible] the world never saw We warn you, [illegible] that you are, and your [illegible] Kenner, the [illegible] the unscrupulous vil[illegible] [illegible] that if you swindle [illegible] your lives will pay the for[illegible] [illegible] we are armed, organized [illegible] to do our duty Braggart Sheri[illegible] [illegible] cannot save you [illegible] at your back Our attack [illegible] and decisive. We will do our [illegible] before the hordes of des[illegible] [illegible] you You are now [illegible] (Signed.)

[illegible] OF LOUISIANA

[illegible]

[illegible] Nov. 17—The Tribune's New [illegible] says the [illegible] returns of the [illegible] received in this city [illegible] majorities in the aggregate [illegible] they have been supposed to [illegible] of both parties have hereto[illegible] [illegible] private, not in public, that [illegible] depend entirely on the deci[illegible] [illegible] board, in regard to the [illegible] parishes, in which it is assert[illegible] [illegible] and fraud were most resorted [illegible] or any three of them were count[illegible] it was supposed the Democrats [illegible] the State, if they were all thrown [illegible] was almost universally conced[illegible] [illegible] Grave doubt now ex[illegible] [illegible] there being a Republican ma[illegible] [illegible] remaining parishes, even after the [illegible] the vote in West and West Felici[illegible] [illegible] Rouge, Ouachita and More[illegible] [illegible] A table prepared by promi[illegible] [illegible] of this city, who have ex[illegible] [illegible] for obtaining correct in[illegible] [illegible] the State very close without [illegible] the parishes named with the [illegible] in favor of the Democrats

[illegible] Returning Board will Do.

[illegible] Nov. 17—The returning [illegible] oaths to deal fairly, will [illegible] at the proper time. There is [illegible] expressed in any quarter that [illegible] the canvass in any but a [illegible] way, and in accordance with [illegible] who believe in law and justice [illegible] It is probable that gentle[illegible] parties will be invited to witness [illegible] of the returning officers and the [illegible] will have a representation on the [illegible] or more members.

[illegible] not be construed that the [illegible] of the Democrats of carrying the [illegible] improved. Enough of the vote in [illegible] counties may be accepted [illegible] board to give the Republi[illegible] [illegible] in several of them The in[illegible] means to have gone abroad [illegible] from an entire parish in each [illegible] is error as in each parish [illegible] voting precincts, and the [illegible] law allowed to choose at which [illegible] will deposit their ballots U S [illegible] stationed at most of the county [illegible] points it is admitted that [illegible] was generally quiet, and the ne[illegible] without molestation It was in [illegible] that the intimidation is said [illegible] place. The returning board [illegible] the case of each ballot box sepa[illegible] [illegible] is not at all known that the vote [illegible] and the countyseats in the [illegible] will be thrown out, or that [illegible] will be made by the Republicans [illegible] legality of the election in these [illegible] negroes from the country [illegible] to the towns to vote, the count[illegible] boxes and rejection of those from [illegible] may give several of the disputed [illegible] Alicans Besides this there [illegible] of intimidation in certain [illegible] parishes not named, and [illegible] out of particular boxes may re[illegible] or increase the Republi[illegible]

[illegible] this explanation it will be seen how [illegible] it is to forecast, from the returns re[illegible] [illegible] the result of the count will [illegible] The Republicans are fully con[illegible] that the returning board will declare [illegible] Louisiana to have been cast for [illegible] and Packard, and the Democrats al[illegible] [illegible] seemed to have arrived at [illegible] conclusion The latter at the same [illegible] that this result can only be [illegible] by unfair means and unless [illegible] of violence and intimidation [illegible] produced is of a more convincing [illegible] than they expect they do not pro[illegible] accept the decision of the return[illegible] as final In other words they don't [illegible] to allow the vote of Louisiana to be [illegible] for Hayes on the second Wednesday [illegible] next February unless the case made up [illegible] so plainly against them as to make all [illegible] upon it hopeless When the truth [illegible] Louisiana comes to become known it [illegible] fully revealed it will be found that the [illegible] which party is in the right [illegible] which has been less to blame [illegible] politicians in this State have become no [illegible] and probably no worse than they were [illegible] 1872 and 1874 Both parties have resort[illegible] [illegible] this year as they have on former [illegible] which cannot be defended [illegible] the Louisiana case is made up [illegible] people to pass their judgment [illegible] question will not be [illegible] which has been the least wrong

New York Nov 17—The Commercial Ad[illegible] New Orleans special says the returning board meets again to morrow at [illegible] and will begin business in earnest Members [illegible] the magnitude of the responsibility [illegible] that they will do their duty fearlessly and impartially keeping within the strict [illegible] of the law, and present to the American [illegible] a full statement of the case On the [illegible] of the returns the Democrats have a small [illegible] but the board will throw out the [illegible] negroes were kept from the polls [illegible] The city is very quiet to [illegible] the Republicans are confident that the board will count Hayes in There is no doubt but what they will [illegible] Republicans and Democrats make come to that conclusion

About a Word

New York Nov 17—The Times editorially says in the interests of a much abused and abused language we protest against the currency of the word bulldose The unhappy prominence which Louisiana has acquired during this political crisis has recently made upon the public this altogether ridiculous and partially brutal war In the French regions of that State exists a society known as the Stop It is pledged to Tilden and reform If a negro is invited to join it and he refuses he is given fair warning, and if he is still contumacious he is taken to the woods and given 100 lashes on his bare back This is called a bull dose or a dose for a bull

Florida.

New York Nov 17—The Times' New Orleans special says The Democrats here are very joyful to night over dispatches received from Florida this evening announcing that returns of election in that State are all in, and show a Democratic majority of between 700 and 800 The Democrats in Florida assure their friends here there cannot possibly be any mistake about this

Louisiana and Florida both Republican

Chicago Nov 17—A private telegram has been received here from Tallahassee this morning, asserting that Florida had gone for Hayes and a dispatch received at the Republican headquarters to day makes the same claim in regard to Louisiana

To the Hons John Sherman, Stanley Matthews, J A Garfield W D Kelly Jno A Kasson, E W Stoughton C Irvin Dilly J H Van Low, Eugene Hale M S Quay, Willis Cumback, E I Noyes Job Stevenson, Jno Coburn, Lew Wallace, Jno Tuttle M A McGrew, J A Chapman, Wm P Smith Abner Taylor S R Haven J M Beardsley, C B Farwell Courtlandt Parker Sidney Clarke J C Wilson—Gentlemen We are in receipt of your answer to our letter of the 14th inst, in which you inform us of your determination not to confer with us for the purpose of exerting such influence as we may possess in behalf of such a canvass of the votes actually cast at the election in Louisiana as by its fairness and impartiality shall command the acquiescence and respect of all parties We sincerely regret this failure of our attempt to secure the co operation of the citizens from other States in furtherance of the purpose which we supposed had brought them hither at this juncture We regret it all the more because your refusal to confer and co operate with us appears to be based upon a serious misapprehension of the language no less than the spirit of our communication It can hardly have escaped your notice that our statement of the result to be obtained by co operative action which we sought to bring about was a simple reproduction of the language of President Grant, at whose request we the undersigned are here In his recent order to General Sherman that language was deliberately used no doubt, in view of the fact about which, we conceive, there can be no dispute that the first and most essential prerequisite to an honest and just declaration of the result of the recent election in Louisiana is a fair and impartial canvass of the votes actually cast, and it seems to us that you do the President great injustice in supposing that, in speaking of the votes actually cast, he meant to include votes illegally cast as you certainly do us injustice by the imputation of a desire to insist upon such a narrow and vicious interpretation In our judgment the expression "votes actually cast" of necessity designates votes legally cast and as a consequence of such votes only did we desire a fair and impartial canvass We beg leave to say further that you are mistaken in the belief that we sought unduly to narrow the basis on which we invited your co operative action, and you are no less in error in attributing to us a purpose to interfere with the legal authorities of the State in the discharge of their duties to claim right and to arrogate to ourselves powers which we do not possess In writing our letter we were fully aware that both the organization and action whether judicial or ministerial of the returning board of Louisiana, were beyond any authorities or control from without, and that it would be the height of arrogance and folly to attempt to alter the laws of a State which we are not citizens of, or obtrude our interpretation of those laws upon those whose duty it is to administer them But we had supposed nevertheless that there was an influence which might be rightfully exerted even if by citizens of this republic who are strangers in this State and we had taken it for granted that your presence here in response to the suggestion of the President was a recognition of this fact. We had supposed that it was not improper for us to remind the authorities of the State by our mere presence, at least that there are certain rules of fairness and justice which underlie all constitutions and laws and upon whose observance must depend the acquiescence of the people of all parties in the declared result of the Louisiana election—rules such as these that no one ought to be judge in his own case that the decision of any contest ought not to depend upon the mere arbitrament of one of the parties thereto that before such decision is made both parties ought to be fully and fairly heard that all questions of law ought to be decided in conformity with its established general principles, and all questions of fact upon evidence duly presented and weighed under the rules which are of universal recognition in all the States of this Union that the trial of all cases involving public interests, at least, ought to be public, that all proceedings in the present electoral contest ought by their manifest importance to disarm the suspicion that the forms of law have been perverted into instruments for the violation of its spirit In this connection we may be permitted to observe that while undoubtedly as you say a zealous inculcation and cultivation of the habit of obedience to the forms of law is vital to the preservation of constitutional liberty it is no less important that the refusal to yield such obedience be not provoked by using these forms as a means for subverting them from the ends which they were designed Without undertaking to question the sincerity of the belief which you are at the pains to express that you know of no reason to doubt that the Louisiana returning board will make an honest and just declaration of the results of the recent election in Louisiana we [illegible] to say that the presence in this city of so many citizens from all parts of the Union [illegible] seems to be evidence of a widely prevalent distrust of the action of this board and that such distrust has this foundation at least that the constitution of the board has not been changed since its returns were set aside by a Congressional committee of which the Republican candidate for Vice President was a member and this distrust is increased in view of the fact that as we understand one of the members of the returning board is a candidate [illegible] for at the recent election and another the holder of an office of [illegible] and trust by appointment of the present executive of the [illegible] government while all the members of the board are [illegible] to be in affiliation with [illegible] [illegible] present [illegible] In view of all this it is hardly necessary to add that [illegible] [illegible] letter were [illegible] whether the [illegible] [illegible] of the board were judicial or ministerial [illegible] simply to invite [illegible] [illegible] with us that whatever may be the [illegible] [illegible] And we will [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Louisiana we [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to the subject of [illegible] [illegible] the Louisiana returning board [illegible] [illegible] the laws and constitution of the United States whether as you observe by way of illustration under the constitution the president of the Senate both counts and declares the votes of the electors of the several States his duty being purely ministerial and not subject to the control of Congress or whether as has been the practice for more than 80 years a p[illegible] inaugurated by men some of whom had been among the framers of the constitution the votes are to be counted under the direction and control of the Senate and House of Representatives is a question upon the discussion of which we do not [illegible] part of our duty to enter In conclusion permit us to say notwithstanding your refusal to co operate we still cherish the hope that the returning board warned by the history of the past and conscious that its actions are being observed by a whole nation will discharge its delicate duty with such scrupulous fairness and impartiality as will give satisfaction to the American people To this end we will continue to labor Should a different result follow the action of the board we shall have the satisfaction of knowing that while you have taken the responsibility of [illegible] we have done all in our power to avert the consequences which may follow Very respectfully (Signed) John M Palmer Lyman Trumbull Wm R Morrison [illegible] Samuel J Randall [illegible] Wm Bigler Penn J R Doolittle [illegible] B Smith Wis J [illegible] McDonald Geo W Julian, Manson John Love Ind Henry Watterson J W Stevenson Henry D McHenry Ky O Wald Ottendorfer N Y J B Stallo Ohio Lewis V Bogy Jas A Brodhead P Gibson Mo, John L Carroll W Hamilton Ind P H Watson Ohio F R Condit

Henry Watterson's Opinion

Louisville Ky Nov 17—Mr Henry Watterson telegraphs the Courier Journal from New Orleans that the returning board shows conclusively its intention to proceed without fear or shame in counting out Tilden's majority In conversation with Senator Stevenson yesterday Gov Kellogg admitted that of the votes cast Tilden had unquestionably received a majority He speaks in severe terms of ex Gov Wells stating that this man has the destiny of the United States in his hands but there is no hope of fair play from him whom Sheridan once removed from office for being as he said an impediment to the execution of the laws Mr Watterson reports having seen over 100 colored Democratic leaders who deny the statements of Packard also having examined the affidavits of 500 other colored Democrats who bear testimony to the fact that they voted of their own free will.

Latest from Louisiana.

New Orleans Nov 17—The Democratic committee have received several hundred affidavits from negroes and some from Republican officials in Ouachita and other bulldozed parishes showing there was a peaceable and just election also intimidation of negroes who desired to vote the Democratic ticket, but didn't do so for fear of violence from Republicans of their own color The Republican officials have counter affidavits in many cases showing violence and intimidation where the Democrats have sworn nothing of the kind existed In all preceding election matters the Republicans have monopolized the affidavit business but this time their efforts will probably be eclipsed by the array of affidavits that will be presented by the Democrats

It is stated to night on good authority that the returning board, when it meets to morrow, will reply to the application of the Democratic committee allowing five members from each party to be present during the canvassing of the returns.

The report is current that the returns from some wards of this city will undergo revision and reconstruction, to secure a district judgeship for the Republicans but the report can not be traced to reliable sources

The Democrats are in good feather to night over the news from South Carolina

New Orleans Nov 17—Business continues extremely dull There is no prospect of improvement until the present political dispute is adjusted and the election of the President conceded by the opposing party The belief seems to be very general that the returning board will repeat the performance of 1872 in effect and declare Packard elected governor

More Blunders.

New Orleans Nov 17—The Evening Democrat says two of the Republican electors in Louisiana held offices of profit and trust under the United States at the time they were voted for and are therefore ineligible O H Brewster was U S Surveyor General for Louisiana and official documents signed by him during the canvass are in existence The day after the election he sent in his resignation and, it is believed antedated it to cure his ineligibility Judge A B Levisee another Hayes elector is we are informed a U S commissioner in an office of profit and trust and is therefore ineligible

The five radical electors will run further behind the radical ticket in the 14th Senatorial district than was at first expected Almost all of the tickets of the Wakefield radical faction were printed with the names of only three electors—the two at large, Kellogg and Burch and their elector for that district, Jefferson The consequence is that the other five electors are behind 1051 and in West Baton Rouge 400 In Iberville they are considerably behind, also in St Martin and Iberia it is impossible to say just how great this deficiency is but certainly over 1 000, and may be as great as 2 000

South Carolina.

New York Nov 17—A Times Columbia dispatch says Republicans here are very anxious to settle the question as to electors in order to relieve the anxiety of the country Every effort in that direction made by Northern Republicans and local leaders has been resisted by the Democratic managers They have received discouraging dispatches to day from Florida and Louisiana and they do not wish South Carolina to be taken from their list of doubtful States It is worthy of note that the board of canvassers as at present constituted have exercised all powers and performed all duties now sought to be prohibited Ever since 1868 they have after every election decided contests as to the election of members of the legislature and county officers Their powers in regard to contests in county offices have been recognized by the supreme Court in two decisions and their action has been declared final and not subject to review by the courts or legislature In fact no one has ever questioned before the revisory powers of the board It is done now to make effective the bold frauds and open violence of the rifle club campaign

Another Clear Case of Intimidation

Charleston Nov 17—A special dispatch to the News and Courier received at [illegible] says that a colored Democrat was severely beaten by Radical negroes at Lawtonville in the upper part of Beaufort county The trial justice issued a warrant for the arrest of the offenders and five were arrested by a constable and [illegible] On returning with the prisoners last night they were attacked by a body of armed negroes and two of the white constables killed and the prisoners [illegible] The sheriff of the county [illegible] on his way to [illegible] telegraphs from [illegible] that [illegible] 2000 in number and armed are at [illegible] swearing vengeance on every white man in the country

Coming to the Point

Columbia S C, Nov 17—The supreme court to day issued an auxiliary order in [illegible] the board of canvassers to proceed strictly [illegible] [illegible] and submit the returns to the court [illegible] [illegible] canvassers who have just met [illegible] [illegible] probably w[illegible] [illegible]

Columbia Nov 17—The board of canvassers [illegible] [illegible] the vote of the State for Presidential electors and for governor and lieutenant governor and have canvassed the vote [illegible] A large number of [illegible] have been filed by both parties and [illegible] existing [illegible] several counties [illegible] discovered The order of the court [illegible] powers or functions of the board The motion for a writ of prohibition against the exercise judicial powers is held under advisement and the board is required to certify the count of the vote to the court

The South Carolina Election Decision

Columbia, Nov 17—The supreme court has decided nothing in the election matter more [illegible] ordered the board to canvass the vote [illegible] and report to the court

Pacheco Probably Elected

San Francisco Nov 1[illegible]—In the Fourth Congressional district [illegible] figures [illegible] majority of 13 [illegible] which are not expected to materially [illegible] the result

The San Francisco Investigation

The finance committee of the Board of Supervisors Messrs Wise Eaton and Drucker [illegible] adjournment [illegible] P M Mr Wise stated that at the meeting on yesterday the committee [illegible] P M to day an opening [illegible] of certificates of registration unless enjoined by the courts, and to hear what W H L Barnes had to say Barnes presented a written protest which he desired should go on record holding that the proposed action of the committee was wholly without precedent and unwarranted by the provisions of the consolidation act and entirely beyond the powers and duties of the board of supervisors and of the committee especially As the county clerk and assessor desired no obstacle to be placed in the way of investigating their records and action he withdraws his objection so far as they were concerned but desired simply to make the point that the proceedings were without color of law and claimed that so far as the Republican party was concerned it had fought and won in a fair fight and will be able to prove that in the course of investigation After considerable discussion the committee proceeded to compare the certificates of enrollment with affidavits

San Francisco Nov 17—The investigation of election frauds by the finance committee seems likely to be fruitful of but little sensation for some days to come At any rate, the committee are busy sorting out certificates and affidavits but the papers are so disposed that it will be impossible to discover discrepancies until all the wards have been examined

San Francisco Nov 17—The finance committee was busily engaged to day in examining certificates and affidavits In the course of the examination they found that one individual had taken out two certificates under different names and had voted on both For the purposes of justice his name is for the present suppressed

Frauds in San Francisco.

The World's San Francisco dispatch says Frauds were committed by means of false certificates of registration, which were issued during ten days preceding the election to the number of at least 6000 The vote of the city was by this means run up to 41 600 when it has never been over 36 000 The board of supervisors are making a move to unearth the frauds but they are opposed at every step by Federal officials and leading Republicans The county clerk a former Democrat is openly accused of conniving at bogus registration for pecuniary gain He signed certificates in blank by hundreds and they were given in bundles to the Republican managers to fill up and distribute The whole matter will doubtless be brought to light before Gov Irwin issues certificates

Congressional Election in Arkansas.

Little Rock Nov 17—The official returns from the third Congressional district show the election of Cravens (Dem) by 269 majority over McClure (Rep) and Stuart (Dem)

Cabinet Meeting.

Washington, D C, Nov 17—The regular Cabinet session to day was attended by all the members and lasted about two hours There was general exchange of views as to the present political situation Various questions that have been raised throughout the country concerning the eligibility of certain Presidential Electors and contingencies that might arise in connection with any possible vacancies in the electoral vote were informally discussed with a view to a full understanding of the Federal and State laws bearing upon these subjects Subsequently the members of the Cabinet visited the law library of the Department of Justice to consult the statutes and decisions affording the desired information No action, however was taken on any of the points, as no question calling for executive determination or immediate construction, has thus far been presented

The Legal Point.

An Eastern dispatch of the 16th inst says The Democrats would propose that the House elect a President, but just how they could get him inaugurated without revolution does not appear They hold that the vacancy is not such an one as law provides shall be filled by the president of the Senate Some prominent Republicans hold this view and say that clearly Grant would hold over till next election and the qualification of his successor One point appears very simple and clear that not any of the actions which are talked of to defeat the inauguration of Hayes if he is returned elected is within the Constitution and laws The present trouble is the fault of the Democratic party in Congress They can not throw off the responsibility During four years the danger has been pointed out and attempts have been frequently made to provide against it The Democrats are on record as delaying and obstructing and finally defeating altogether a law which would have provided a fair method for settling the question at issue

THE EASTERN QUESTION

Prospect of War

London Nov 17—While war is not yet considered inevitable England, Russia and Turkey continue war preparations on a gigantic scale The situation is so narrowed now that it is simply a question whether England and Russia will combine to compel Turkey to settle the difficulty or will by taking divergent sides precipitate a great conflict involving all three If England refuses to accept Russia's demand as a basis for the proposed conference she must fight or retreat from the whole question leaving Turkey to her fate English public sentiment does not sustain Beaconsfield's menace or favor war to defeat Russia's interference in behalf of Turkey's Christian victims Russia evidently intends to persist even if England fights for Turkey Still British journals fail to show that England really expects the war which depends solely on her action

London Nov 17—The Pall Mall Gazette this afternoon had a leading editorial on the Eastern question which concludes as follows English jealousy English suspicion is thoroughly aroused and any overt act on the part of Russia in the direction of her suspected [illegible] would [illegible] hostility and not only leave government free to act against [illegible] but in certain contingencies compel them to act

London, Nov 17—The Times in its financial article says one of the rumors on exchange yesterday was that Lord Derby has withdrawn from negotiation on the Eastern question and the cabinet had ordered the occupation of Constantinople by British [illegible] that there would be no conference but immediate war This rumor is probably the foundation of the following statement which the [illegible] makes [illegible]

We can state not officially but very [illegible] [illegible] 100 troops [illegible] [illegible] engineer officers are already [illegible] surveys for a thorough defense of the Turkish [illegible]

[illegible] probably grows out of a telegram from Constantinople on the 14th inst stating that several officers of the corps of royal Engineers had arrived [illegible]

The [illegible] adds [illegible] to participate in a war between Turkey and Russia who may fight out their quarrel whether in Asia or in Europe but to [illegible] Constantinople and the Dardanelles from seizure by Russia England will simply [illegible] Constantinople in pledge temporarily [illegible] of other powers and the [illegible] at large As soon as a neutral State was formed on the Bosphorous, or such other arrangement effected as Europe may ultimately determine upon England would willingly withdraw Thus the ministerial policy is perfectly clear and free from future entanglement It has a distinct object of vital importance to British interests and beyond that the government will not go

The foregoing in all probability has no better foundation than the stock exchange rumor before mentioned

A dispatch from St Petersburg says the Czar addressing the generals and officers at the close of a review at Tsarskoselo on Wednesday said Gentlemen—Let us wish the best success to the commanders of our armies The Czar's words were received with enthusiasm All freight traffic has been stopped since yesterday on the Russian railways between Warsaw and Terespol Kilo and Brest Moscow and Brest Lampoli and Samara [illegible] and Sarizin Charkoff and Moscow and [illegible]

Bucharest Nov 17—The Roumanian House of Deputies voted $80 000 for the maintenance of a corps of observation on the Danube

London Nov 17—The Times continues to advocate co operation with Russia in enforcing upon the Porte satisfactory reforms and has a strong editorial on the subject to day in which it cites the intervention in Syria in 1860 and the French occupation of the Lebanon by the acquiescence of all treaty powers to show that military interference in Bulgaria would be an exact precedent, and that as the Porte yielded to European control of her internal affairs then she would do so in the parallel case now presented The organs of the Liberal party strongly oppose any action in a sense hostile to Russia The Standard, Telegraph and Pall Mall Gazette do not believe England can remain neutral

The Post while strongly anti Russian is disposed to believe Russia has abandoned the idea of demanding or seizing material guarantees for the execution of reforms or of insisting upon autonomy in a sense of infringement of the independence of Turkey It thinks, therefore that the conference may arrive at an arrangement satisfying Russia's legitimate susceptibilities and the independence and sovereign rights of the Ottoman Empire

Constantinople Nov 17—An extraordinary cabinet council will be held to morrow to definitely decide respecting the question of conference the British cabinet having renewed its energetic demand on the subject.

Liverpool, Nov 17—The uneasiness on the subject of Eastern affairs is increasing The grain trade again assumes considerable firmness with a tendency to advance in value Foreign wheats are generally held for more money To day the market was more numerously attended than usual Fridays and wheat had free sale at an advance of fully one penny per cental on Tuesday's currencies Flour sells readily for rather more money Corn in moderate request the turn favoring sellers

Paris Nov 17—Le Temps states that the Porte will give official reply to the conference proposal to morrow It is believed Turkey will accept conference on the basis of British proposals

London, Nov 17—The Times in a leader sums up the latest phase of the situation as follows on the Turkish question to day In regard to the conference hangs the question of peace or war, even though the conference meets but it must be taken that the Turkish refusal to participate in the conference would be considered as her acceptance of war

SATURDAY MORNING, NOV. 18, 1876.

THE SOUTHERN CLAIMS.

In pursuance of a statute of the State of Missouri, over $2,000,000 of claims, for losses of property in that State during the war, have been audited and allowed. These claims are based on the cotton tax, damage to land and other property in consequence of the movements of armies, emancipation of slaves, &c. They embrace, in fact, almost every species of loss which the Missouri confederates could have sustained in consequence of the rebellion. On auditing these claims, a certificate is given to the claimant, bearing the signature of the governor of the State, certifying that the State of Missouri is indebted to the claimant in a specified sum, with a reservation that the State shall not be required to pay the claim till it has been allowed and paid to the State of Missouri by the United States. The New York Tribune publishes a fac simile of one of these certificates. It bears such resemblance to the confederate paper currency as would be expected from its close relationship to that product of the Peter Cooper theory of money.

The enacting of laws for the perpetuation of these confederate claims, does not comport very well with the professions of the Southern Democracy that they have no disposition to press their payment on the general government; and especially is this so while the laws studiously provide for their presentation to the general government. In Virginia the legislature has provided for preserving the evidence of similar claims by the following law:

> Be it enacted by the General Assembly, That it shall be the duty of the clerks of the several county and corporation courts to keep a record of such papers relating to the loss of property during the late war as they may be required to do by this act. Any person who has suffered losses by the operations of war since the 17th day of April, 1861, may make a statement of such losses, stating the kind and description of property, including negroes emancipated; at what time taken, damaged, or destroyed, by the army of which belligerent, and in whatever manner by either army, and the amount of loss sustained, making the value of said property on January 1, 1861, the standard of valuation, and offer the same, proved by the affidavit of one or more citizens, to the clerk of the county or corporation in which the said property was taken, damaged or destroyed, who shall receive and record the same in a book kept for that purpose. The original papers shall be safely kept by the clerk, but they may be withdrawn at any time after they have been recorded.

The Tribune also presents extracts from leading Southern papers, of later date than Mr. Tilden's famous letter on the subject, which show there is no such unanimous acquiescence in the views of Mr. Tilden as one would be led to think from reading the enthusiastic endorsements given to the letter by Democratic politicians. This, from the Macon (Ga.) Tel[illegible] and Mes[illegible]ger, for instance:

> Tilden [illegible] out with a sweeping declaration [illegible] all Southern war claims, including [illegible] of the unconstitutional and [illegible] cotton tax. We think Tilden has [illegible] too far in this matter. The cotton tax, which was a punitive tax and wholly [illegible], ought to be refunded after the [illegible] has passed the ordeal of the courts and of Congress, and no President ought to oppose an executive veto to a clear measure of justice and rectitude, so decided, simply because that measure inures to the benefit of quandam rebels and insurrectionists, so called.

And here is another specimen, being an editorial article from the Tuscumbia (Ala.) [illegible], of which ex-Congressman Joseph H. Sloss is the editor:

> It is a matter of surprise to see Southern politicians and Democrats of the North asserting that if Tilden and Hendricks are elected, the just claims due the Southern people will not be paid. We are disgusted with such moral cowardice as will lead those who should be friends of the South to thus show the white feather before the "bloody shirt" banner of those who would rob the people of the South of their just and legal claims. We have always believed, insisted that claims for private property taken from our people during the war, and used by the Federal army, or sold, and the proceeds carried into the United States Treasury, should be paid; and we are satisfied that when prejudice and bitterness cease to control our rulers and legislators, every one of these claims will be paid. While a member of Congress we voted to allow the claims of loyal citizens of the South for every cent of the value of property taken from them by the Federal army. We also voted to pay for school houses, churches and buildings belonging to charitable associations, which were wantonly destroyed by the Federal army. In thus voting we thought we were advocating what was just, fair, and in accord with established principle, believing that private property can not, in any case, be taken and used by the public or by the government without being paid for; and we should continue to insist that not only should the claims of loyal citizens against the government for private property taken or destroyed during the war by the Federal army be paid, but that in every case where private property was taken and used by or for the [illegible] government, it should be paid for.
> It is high time that our people should insist upon simple justice being done them, at least by those they send to Congress to attend to their interests, and that no backing down from a determination to assert and insist upon our legal or equitable rights should be permitted. Let the candidates for Congress be interrogated as to their intentions as to such claims, and if either one is not in favor of demanding and working for our rights, let us vote for those who will.

These are straws showing the way the wind is blowing in the South. The politicians, for the sake of securing a Democratic President by Northern votes, declare there is no danger of the payment of these claims, because they will never be pressed upon Congress, but the papers which have in charge the working up of popular enthusiasm at home play upon quite another key. They write for home consumption, and they echo the real sentiments of the Southern people. To the people the politicians will find it convenient to bow when the opportune moment arrives for a move all along the line, and then we shall see the politicians who have just proclaimed their endorsement of the Tilden policy leading the assault upon the national treasury.

It appears impossible for the average Democratic organ to make up its mind to be content with the plain truth. What with the manufacturing of stories that have no foundation at all, and the exaggerating of such facts as they want to make use of, till they become as untruthful as if they had no foundation, the organs have but small space in their columns for genuine news. An illustration of this peculiarity in Democratic journalism was furnished by the Mercury yesterday. It opened with a column editorial, the pith of which was the wholly groundless and absurd charge that Oregon had been carried by the Republicans through fraud—a charge which well informed Democrats speak of as puerile and silly. Then followed a half column of idle [illegible], the point of which, if it could be said to have any point, was that Watts must be excluded from the electoral college and a Democrat who had been voted out by the people, must be let in. Then, upon the strength of Watts and Sollace, the two ex-postmasters, it proceeded to declare that the Republicans had "committed the blunder of electing Dr. Watts and three or four others who are ineligible and cannot hold the office." No wonder the Democrats who read no papers but their party organs never get out of the grooves and ruts of party prejudice. No wonder the more intelligent of their party, who read the news of the day in newspapers that dare tell the truth, often express mortification at the style of journalism upon which the party has to depend for the advocacy of its principles.

It is really surprising to see so much made by the Democrats of the question of Dr. Watts' competency as an elector. We have heard several Democrats express what one would naturally suppose to be the sentiment of all honest men; that is, that it would be a shame to any party to attempt to put its candidate into the Presidential office by means of such a technicality, and contrary to the clearly expressed will of the people. We know the gentleman on the Democratic ticket who received the highest vote for elector, and we greatly mistake if he would even consent to be a party to such a transaction. The fact is there is nothing in this postmaster question. The intention, and the proper construction is, that a man shall not exercise the office of elector who holds another office of trust or profit under the national government. All this splitting hairs on the meaning of a word is childish, when the object of all the words taken together, and read by the general context, is obvious. Ex-postmasters are not postmasters now, and they are qualified to act as electors. At least this is what the plain people will persist in understanding, no matter how much technical hair-splitting may be done about it.

The Mercury echoes the silly twaddle of the Standard about frauds in the late election in this State, and talks of the rejection of the vote of the large central counties which gave Republican majorities. It is well known, to all who have any acquaintance with Oregon elections that there is as little ground to charge unfairness in this election as in any that ever was held in the State. The vote is larger than heretofore, because the population is larger; and the gain is more Republican than Democratic, because the accessions to our population is more Republican than Democratic. That is the explanation of the increased vote and of the large Republican gains. It is a very simple matter, not requiring profound calculations.

THE TERRITORIES.

Nine cases for divorce are on file in the office of the district court at Olympia.

Some of the young gentlemen of Seattle are busy, at present, organizing a society under a charter from San Francisco, entitled the "Jolly Fellows."

Officers of Washington Encampment C. R. C., were publicly installed Thursday evening, and Mr. Anthony addressed a large audience in Tacoma hall on the subject of temperance and championship.

The Dispatch says the government has made a contract for a daily mail service between Tacoma and Seattle, and duly pays for the same. Some may call it a daily mail, but we call it two mails every other day.

The Seattle Dispatch says: Theodore O. Williams, Democratic nominee for sheriff of Kitsap county, will contest the election of Mr. Geo. Severns, the Republican candidate for that office. The latter received a majority over the former of 13 votes, which Mr. Williams claims to have been illegally received. How "illegally" Mr. W. does not say.

On last Friday, Mr. Charles Johnson, who resided about one mile west of Corvallis, fell dead while walking on his farm a short distance from his house. Mr. Johnson was one of the early pioneers of Oregon, having immigrated here in 1850, and has resided on the farm which he occupied at the time of his death since that date. Deceased was born in Kentucky, in March, 1803, and consequently was within a few months of 73 years of age, at the time of his death.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

In accordance with time-honored custom, and in acknowledgment of abundant blessings which have been vouchsafed to the people of this State at the hand of an All-wise Providence during the year now drawing to a close, I recommend the observance of Thursday, the 30th day of November, 1876, as a day of thanksgiving and praise to Almighty God, the giver of every good and perfect gift.

[L. S.] In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of said State to be affixed, at the city of Salem, this 13th day of November, A. D. 1876.

L. F. GROVER.

CITY.

Young Towne.—Under the heading of "A [illegible] End," a San Francisco exchange of the [illegible] says: "Frederick B. Towne, a young [illegible] previously employed in a boot and shoe [illegible] on Market street, on Friday [illegible] suddenly disappeared. He left no doc[illegible] information as to the contemplated [illegible] point of his journey, and his room, [illegible] was examined, gave no evidence that [illegible] to sojourn for any length of time. It was found that he had left on the Ajax on [illegible] morning for Portland, subsequently, and also that on Friday he drew $120 from his [illegible] Mr. Nolan, and dined the same [illegible] at the house of a friend. Where he [illegible] the night is unknown. On Friday [illegible] John H. Madison, an uncle of the young [illegible] received a dispatch from Portland stating that Towne had shot and killed himself. Mr. [illegible] telegraphed to have the [illegible] forwarded to this city. Towne was [illegible] of age, unmarried, and has long been looked upon as a most exemplary young man, and was not known to possess any bad habits that could have driven him to take his own life." Yesterday morning, agreeable to re[illegible] Cooke & Craft shipped the re[illegible] inclosed in a casket, on the Elder for [illegible].

A Handsome Residence.—Ex-Senator Cor[illegible] is just moving into his elegant new man[illegible] It is one of the private residences of [illegible] our city and State may well be proud. BRIEF NOTES.

No end to wheat.

Decidedly damp.

More gentle showers.

Shipping lively now.

The election hat is the latest tile.

Motion day in State circuit court.

Stake holders still cling to the money.

Sociables and festivals are now in order.

The news continues "kinder" mixed—ain't it?

The membership of Portland Library is increasing.

Ducks abound in the market; snipe are not plentiful.

Common Council—special meeting—this evening.

Extensive travel now between Portland and Olympia.

Some of the streets are in a very bad state for travel.

Nights will continue to grow longer until the 22d prox.

Who is President of the United States—Grant. That's a fact.

Trailing skirts can be worn no longer, as the side and crosswalks are in a deplorably wet and muddy condition.

The spire of the First Presbyterian church is again in good order.

The sidewalks are greatly impeded by the "sere and yellow leaf."

The damaged wharf belonging to the Gas Company will soon be repaired.

The British bark Cromdale is now lying at anchor opposite Flanders' wharf.

On the 29th the Amateur Musical Society will give their first subscription concert.

Mr. Edwin Bell, Indian agent on the Snohomish reservation, is at present in the city.

Yesterday, James Long, of Salem was indicted by the U. S. grand jury for illegal voting.

J. Pluvius and Jackson Frost are again "at outs." Old J. P. holds the best hand this deal.

The Florence sewing machine agency is being removed to Sherman and Hyde's music store.

The way it makes the old nag snort to climb the Fourth street grade these moist days, is a caution.

Wild blackberry blossoms in November have come to the front—so says our evening cotemporary.

There will be a meeting of the members of the Sportsmen's club next Wednesday evening, Nov. 22d.

Even the election returns of Oregon are not all in, and why grumble at the "snail pace" style in Florida?

Full election returns, compiled carefully for this paper, will be found in the weekly OREGONIAN, now ready.

There will be no steamer sail from San Francisco for Portland to-day, owing to the disablement of the Ajax.

As time rolls on the interest in election news gradually abates. The people are getting tired of the same old story.

Mr. George Coggan shipped to San Francisco yesterday morning, 42 head of splendid Oregon raised 2 and 3 year old colts.

Cider and hydrant water are one and the same color now. Laundrymen and patient housewives are not happy, strange to say.

A number of unemployed men are seeking work since the suspension of operations among the fisheries on the Lower Columbia.

The literary and musical entertainment in aid of defraying the debt on the Catholic church in East Portland, promises to be very successful.

Last Tuesday was the 44th anniversary of the death of Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, the last of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

Two of our "prints" brought home a big batch of game last night. Guess they got them in a legitimate way—their appearance indicates it.

Sep. Huelat, the well known attorney, who has been in a deplorable condition of body and mind for the past month, has been committed to the asylum again.

Yesterday the case of State vs George C. Sears, Charles Seaman and J. W. Eaton, charged with the crime of manslaughter, was on trial in the State Circuit Court.

Portland has no street commissioner now—just at a time when the streets and sidewalks need attention most. Will the Council longer neglect to appoint such an officer?

It is announced that Mme. Anna Bishop is to give a series of twelve concerts at the diamond diggings of the Cape of Good Hope. We hope the diggers will enjoy them.

Three of the most captivating young ladies in the city will have charge of the postoffice at the fair soon to be given for the benefit of St. Vincent's hospital. Every youth will be certain to want a letter.

One would feel like exclaiming, "Oh! the depravity of the human heart!" when he witnessed the prurient curiosity manifested in the large attendance at the State Circuit Court yesterday. A large crowd assembled to listen to the disgusting details of the criminal case on trial there.

Where all the driftwood comes from is a mystery to the average intellect. Yesterday we ventured to ask an unsophisticated specimen of humanity the question (simply for information you know). Giving us a withering look of sympathy the fellow said: "Why, from the country; where else should it come from." We were satisfied.

RELIGIOUS MATTERS.

[From the Sentinel.]

The first Sunday in Advent will occur on the 3d of December.

The Catholic church at Gervais is said to be the best in the archdiocese.

Next Tuesday will be the Feast of the Presentation of the Blessed Virgin.

The Catholic colonists of Verboort are well pleased to have a resident priest in their midst.

The St. Vincent de Paul Society will approach Holy Communion in a body on the feast of the Immaculate Conception.

Father Herrman will celebrate mass at Mr. Forrestel's house, on Sunday 26th inst., for the accommodation of Catholics residing in that vicinity.

The new bell purchased by the late Father Verboort for the chapel of Catholic colonists near Cornelius arrived recently, and will be blessed on the 19th inst.

ARRESTED FOR LARCENY.

Chief Lappeus received a dispatch yesterday afternoon from Sheriff McCrossin, of Wasco county, authorizing him to arrest a young man named William A. Taylor, who was a passenger on The Dalles boat bound for Portland. Officers Brannon and Belcher were detailed to look after the matter. These officers stationed themselves on the O. S. N. Co.'s wharf to await the arrival of the Cascades boat. No personal description was given of Taylor, and the officers could not tell which passenger to arrest. But after "skirmishing" about for a short time, these officers struck the trail and following it up soon had Taylor in their clutches. From all we can learn the facts connected with the case are about as follows:

Taylor has been employed for some time as an assistant engineer on the steamship Geo. W. Elder. Several weeks ago he threw up his position, owing, as he says, to poor health. Soon after he became acquainted with a man named Evans. Soon after Taylor and his new acquaintance concluded to go to The Dalles to start a saloon. Taylor had no means at all, but Evans had over $100. They had not been at The Dalles long before both got on a spree. While intoxicated they hired a team and went out buggy-riding. Returning to The Dalles late the same evening they occupied the same bed. Sometime during the night Taylor, who knew that Evans had some money, got up, took the key from his friend's pocket, and unlocked his (Evans') trunk, and abstracted therefrom about $100. That was Wednesday night, and Friday morning Taylor started to come to Portland. Meantime, Evans missed his money, and having every reason to suspect Taylor of being the thief, had the sheriff telegraph down for his arrest.

On reaching here, Taylor proceeded at once to the O. S. N. Co.'s office and purchased a ticket for San Francisco via Victoria. He then went up to the Ivy Green saloon. In the meantime Brannan and Belcher tracked him up and arrested him. He wept like a child, and confessed his crime on being taken into custody. Sixty-six dollars in silver was found on his person when searched at the city jail. Taylor says he only took $10 from Evans' trunk, but Evans telegraphed down to a friend yesterday that he had lost $140. The prisoner is a very young man,—not exceeding 23 years of age. He is an engineer by trade, and his family reside in England. Sheriff McCrossin was notified of Taylor's arrest last evening, and will probably come down to-day or send an officer to take him to the Dalles. The evidence of Taylor's guilt is conclusive, and he will most assuredly have to serve the State for a term.

THE COURTS.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY, J.

FRIDAY, Nov. 17, 1876.

U. S. vs James Long; grand jury came in and presented a true bill of indictment against said defendant for illegal voting, which was filed, and an order on motion of district attorney that defendant be brought in to-morrow at 10 o'clock A. M., for arraignment.

U. S. vs Albert Wilson; defendant brought in and arraigned and entered plea of guilty.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT—DEADY, J.

Sylvester A. Cahalin vs Oregon and California Railroad Co.; cause tried without the intervention of a jury, by stipulation of the parties. Cause on trial.

STATE CIRCUIT COURT—SHATTUCK, J.

Frank Gatens vs L. Kiernan et al; verdict for plaintiff.

Henrietta Kelly vs P. W. and E. J. Jeffery; judgment on verdict.

State of Oregon vs Geo. C. Sears, Chas. Seaman and J. W. Eaton. O. F. Bell withdraws his appearance herein for the defendants.

Same vs same; cause now on trial.

S. M. Reeder, a juror, excused from further attendance as a juror.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The Pictal Powder is said to be immense as a polish. Wilson & Speck.

J. K. Gill & Co. have diaries for 1877, in every style. The trade supplied at modest prices.

John Wilson, the pioneer dry goods man, has a large stock of goods for winter wear, and prices suited to the times.

Mr. A. Beschelnen, the jeweler, announces a fine stock of jewelry, watches, etc., at remarkably low prices. He is determined to undersell all others. See card.

The Oregon Furniture Manufacturing Co. are turning out a fine lot of furniture at their factory, which will compare with any brought here from abroad. There is no sense in sending East for furniture or anything in their line, while they produce such excellent work.

TO THE PUBLIC.

In connection with our Restaurant we have now opened on the second floor four elegantly furnished parlors, for the reception of families and private parties, where they can be furnished with all the delicacies (including wines and ales) that the market affords. The public asked for a first class Restaurant, we have given it to you, and we most respectfully ask in return your patronage. Open until 1 o'clock A. M.

98 FIRST STREET.

W. L. Adams, M. D., A. M., LL. D., corner of First and Salmon streets, is curing the most inveterate chronic diseases of all kinds at a low price, by medicated, electric lightning cream baths, and by combining the German and French with the American improved practice, mixed with a little common sense. His treatment is, in the main, entirely original, and works almost miracles, as his numerous patients will attest. Is extraordinarily successful in treating female complaints.

Sore eyes speedily relieved. The worst form of piles cured, and the most malignant cancers eradicated root and branch without the use of the knife, or the money refunded.

FIRST PREMIUM HEALING SALVE.

Dr. Halpruner received the first premium at the State Fair for his patent healing salve and corn remedy. An infallible cure for cuts, burns, bruises, boils, felons, blood poison, white swellings, ulcers, sores, [illegible] for corns and bunions. The salve is for sale by all druggists, price 50 cents per box, and manufactured by the Doctor only, corner of [illegible] and Market streets. The Doctor operates on Corns and Bunions as usual.

RESOLUTIONS OF ENDORSEMENT.

HALL OF WILLAMETTE ENGINE CO. NO. 1, PORTLAND [illegible] 1876.

At a regular meeting of Willamette Engine Co. No. 1, held at the company's hall October [illegible] 1876, Chief Engineer J. H. Lyon was nominated for the office of Chief Engineer of the Fire Department and the following resolutions unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That our fellow member and present efficient Chief Engineer J. H. Lyon is the unanimous choice of this company for Chief Engineer of the Portland Fire Department and this company does hereby nominate him for such office.

Resolved, That the uniform courtesy displayed by Chief Engineer Lyon, and the able, fearless and impartial manner in which he has performed the duties of his position, merits his unanimous re-election.

P. D. W. HARDENBERG, Prest. pro tem.

Attest: M. [illegible], Secretary.

FIRE NOTES.

The fire alarm telegraph apparatus is in splendid trim.

The different fire engines of the city are all in good serviceable condition.

All the companies are well filled—new members being added at almost every meeting.

Two weeks from next Monday and the question of who shall be chief will be settled.

The contest between Billie Hart and John Holman for first assistant honors promises to be quite a lively one.

From present appearances the following candidates will be in the field: For chief engineer, J. H. Lyon and Aug. Wendt; for first assistant, Wm. A. Hart and John Holman; for second assistant, J. J. Meagher.

The regular election in the various companies will occur on the first Monday in February. As it will be a long time before the election comes off, there is little or no talk about who shall be foremen, assistants and members of the board of delegates.

Fashionable diagonal suits at Kohn's Clothing Palace.

Gents' Overcoats and Ulsters at Kohn's.

Mrs. Dr. B. A. Owens, Office and residence, east side First street, between Yamhill and Taylor. Special attention given to Women and Children complaints. Also gives Medicated Vapor Baths in treating Rheumatism and Chronic Diseases.

Captains and pilots will note the fact that Peter Wilhelm has fitted up two rooms for their especial use at the Fountain, corner Ash and First streets. English papers on file shortly and everything cosy.

Hard to beat—boiled eggs. We would say Noble Whisky, which you can try at Millard & Vanschuyver's, 39 Front st., and you will acknowledge that it has never been beaten.

Returned.

Dr. Wightman has again returned to this city, where he can be seen at his rooms by those suffering from the Piles or Hemorrhoids, or other diseases of the rectum.

N. B. The "Wightman Process" gives immediate relief, and cures in a very short time without the use of the knife, caustic or ligature. Persons living at a distance and suffering, can receive the remedy by express, C. O. D. (Not Mail). All letters containing stamp for return postage will be promptly answered. CUT THIS OUT.

IT MAY SAVE YOUR LIFE.

There is no person living but what suffers more or less with Lung Disease, Coughs, Colds or Consumption, yet some would die rather than pay 75 cents for a bottle of medicine that would cure them. DR. A. BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and its wonderous cures astonishes every one that try it. If you doubt what we say in print, cut this out and take it to your Druggist and get a sample bottle for a bit and try it. Large size 75 cents. Two doses will relieve you. ORGIA

BY WILLIAM WINTER.

Who cares for nothing alone is free—
Sit down, good fellow, and drink with me.

With a careless laugh and a merry eye
He will laugh at the world as the world goes by.

He laughs at power and wealth and fame
He laughs at virtue, he laughs at shame.

He laughs at hope, he laughs at fear—
At memory's dead leaves, crisp and sere.

He laughs at the future, cold and dim
Nor heaven nor earth is dear to him.

Oh, that is the comrade fit for me!
He cares for nothing, his soul is free.

Free as the soul of the fragrant wine
Sit down, good fellow, my heart is thine.

For I heed not custom, creed, nor law
I care for nothing that ever I saw.

In every city my cups I quaff,
And over my liquor I nod and laugh.

I laugh like the cruel and turbulent wave
I laugh at the church, and I laugh at the grave.

I laugh at joy, and well I know
That I merrily, merrily laugh at woe.

I terribly laugh with an oath and a sneer
When I think that the hour of death is near.

For I know that death is a guest divine
Who shall drink my blood as I drink this wine.

He cares for nothing, a king is he—
Come on, old fellow, and drink with me.

With you I will drink to the solemn past,
Though the cup that I drain should be my last.

I will drink to the phantoms of love and truth,
To ruined manhood and wasted youth.

I will drink to the woman who wrought my woe
In the diamond morning of long ago.

To a heavenly face in sweet repose
To the lily's snow and the blood of the rose.

To the splendor caught from Orient skies,
That thrilled in the dark of her hazel eyes.

Her large eyes wild with the fire of the south
And the dewy wine of her warm, red mouth.

I will drink to the shadow of coming doom,
To the phantoms that wait in my lonely tomb.

I will drink to my soul in its terrible mood,
Dimly and solemnly understood.

And last of all to the monarch of sin—
Who has conquered that palace, and reigns within.

My song is passing—it dies away
I cannot tell—is it night or day?

My heart is burnt and blackened with pain,
And a terrible darkness crushes my brain.

I cannot see you—the end is nigh
But we'll laugh together before I die.

Through awful chasms I plunge and fall—
Your hand, good fellow—I die—that's all.

A DONATION PARTY AT WILLOWBROOK.

So many confused and contradictory rumors have been circulated about that last donation party that I (who have heard the whole story from my friend and neighbor Miss Mix) would like to give the world a plain, unvarnished account of the whole festivity.

Let me, then, introduce my informant, Miss Melissa Mix, spinster, owning to 40, moderately well endowed with this world's goods, housekeeper and care-taker for her only brother, Ralph, some years her senior, both of them prominent members of the Willowbrook church—and thus heralded, she shall tell you the story she told me.

"Of course we can't give our minister much of a salary, you know, Miss Harwood; but we've always calkilated to get a 'man whose heart wasn't set on filthy lucre,' as the 'Postle says.

"I must own we hain't had much success, for, would you believe it? out of five candidates that preached here the year we built the church, not one was willin' to stay and do the Lord's work.

"Why, there's only about sixty families in our church, and it was settled that first winter, that $6 a family would be a fair tax, makin' nigh onto $400 a year, you see; yet it's wonderful what trouble we've had to git a pastor.

"Brother Ralph thought that ma'be if we had a parsonage it would help us; so he and the other trustees bought that nice little cottage where Miss Gray used to live, with a whole rod of land belongin' to it, but, law! twa'n't of no use; none of 'em staid the year out, and I was clean discouraged.

"When Mr. Ormsby came, nigh on three year ago, he seemed more reasonable than the rest, though he asked if we couldn't furnish part of the parsonage for him, as they was only now beginners, and hadn't much housekeepin' stuff.

"Well, the ladies was so well pleased with him that they took right hold of the work (he was to come back in a fortnight) and got lots of things together.

"There was a handsome pincushion made for each of their bedrooms—there's three on 'em in the house—and half a dozen tidies for the parlor, and a case for his shavin' paper, and all sent in the first week.

"You've heerd him preach, Miss Harwood, and you know how interestin' he was, and what a beautiful reader and singer too. Why, I declare, I took real comfort goin' to church and sittin' under such preachin'; and so we all did, I'm sure.

"But I was tellin' you about what we gave him. Well, Deacon Stiles's daughter Sally made a drawin' of the church, and framed it in pine cones, to hang in Mr. Ormsby's study, and the deacon he sent up a cookin' stove out of his own kitchen. He'd just bought a new one for Miss Stiles, and he come over and put it up hisself, which I thought was uncommon kind.

"Then we took up a contribution to buy some furniture, but ready money was skurse just then, so we only raised enough to git a pair of chiny vases and an inkstand.

"But Silas Hart, that sold 'em to us, was one of our members, so he threw in a chiny dog for the baby and a matchbox for the parson's wife.

"Miss Jones and Uncle Midion sent in a new painted bedstead and a kitchen table, and so I told Ralph I'd give 'em a couple of kitchen chairs and our cradle, the one we was both rocked in. So I did, and I pieced a real handsome little quilt for the cradle, a sunflower pattern, all out of spick and span new calico too.

"Well, it's 'most too bad to tell, but Mandy Jones, who went to help Miss Ormsby git to rights, told me that she did act dreadful, and not a bit becomin' a minister's wife.

"She went all round the house lookin' as if she was ready to cry, and at last she sot down in the parlor on her trunk, and began to laugh at the vases and the inkstand, and then wound up by findin' fault with the stove, which she said looked as if it came out of the ark.

"I've always thought she made her husband discontented, for Mr. Ormsby was such a meek, quiet, unselfish man that he never would have made any trouble if she hadn't been always complainin' and puttin' him up to grumble.

"But I'm wanderin' off from my story—I started to tell you about the donation party. You see, the first year we got along splendid with it, and I must say I never saw a better tea-table spread than we set that night for Miss Ormsby.

"But that woman never could be satisfied, and she said afterward that it wouldn't take more than two such parties to ruin any family.

"It seems she found fault because we all staid to tea with 'em, jest as if we hadn't a right to our tea after sendin' in all the victuals for it.

"But I don't know as Aunt Betsy did do exactly right, for she took Miss Ormsby's preserves to put on the table, and they was all eat that night, and I s'pose they put her out some.

"Well, as I was sayin', the second year come round, and it was read out in meetin' that the donation party would be given the next Friday.

"Mr. Ormsby read the notice, and then he looked all around and cleared his throat two or three times, as if he had something particular to say, but after waitin' a minute he changed his mind and sat down.

"I thought he acted kinder queer, but I was quite taken up with noticin' Miss Ormsby. She got as red as could be, and when the bell was dismissed she just hurried out as if she didn't want any one to speak to her.

"Well, Friday came, and by 6 o'clock we was mostly all at the parsonage. Mr. Ormsby looked dreadful sober, more as if it was a funeral than a merry makin', I must say; but his wife was awful. She was just as hifty and short as she could be with everyone, and she went and locked the study door and put the key in her pocket right before us all, as if she was afraid we'd touch some of Mr. Ormsby's papers or books.

"Bime by we began to think about settin' the table; so Aunt Betsy, Mandy Jones and me went out in the kitchen to unpack the contributions. There was some pertaters and turnips—them we put in the suller—a piece of corned beef, two or three biled hams, a pot of butter, some apple sass, a big cheese, and such a lot of biscuits it would have taken all night to count 'em.

"I began to be scart when we took out panful after panful of biscuit, and no cake to speak of. At last we came to Miss Jones' basket, and there we found 'lection cake, as well as a great batch of molasses cookies.

"I was glad enough I'd sent pound cake and crullers; but somehow when the table was ready there was more biscuits on it than anything else, though we did the best we could."

Mr Johnson sent tea and coffee from his store, besides sugar and crackers, and Amos Hall, he brought a bag of nuts and some apples, for the young folks after supper, he said,

"There was so many there that we had to divide 'em into three lots, the dinin' room bein' small, and it was 'most seven o'clock when they got through eatin'.

"Aunt Betsy staid with me to clear up some; and I thought I never should get all the biscuits put away, for they 'most filled the pantry.

"For all there had been so many eaten, yet there was piles and piles left, and, as Aunt Betsy said, they wouldn't need to bake for a month to come.

"It happened so that I didn't go out much for a week after the donation party, but the second Sunday after, I started off good and early for church, and as I turned the corner by the parsonage, I saw something that 'most took my breath away. Every one of them sharp-pointed pickets round the house and garden had a good biscuit stuck right atop of it! Yes, Miss Harwood, jest as sure as you live, there was Aunt Betsy's nice raised biscuits—I could tell hern by the shape—and Miss Hall's rusks, and Miss Stiles' soda biscuit, and every one of 'em wasted in that shameful way.

"Well, I stood and looked—I hadn't the strength to move—and pretty soon some of the ladies came along and jined me; and there we stood till the last bell began to ring, talkin' the matter over, and feelin' pretty mad, I can tell you.

"Mr Ormsby had a good sermon that day, but I could hardly hear a word, my mind was so full of the biscuits.

"Miss Ormsby warn't there, and as soon as the last hymn was sung, he got up and said that he had a call from a church in the far West, and that he had made up his mind that it was his duty to accept it. He went on to say that he would like to go that same week, and then, without so much as tellin' us that he was sorry to leave us, or offerin' to wait until we could get some one else, he gave the benediction and dismissed us.

"I can tell you there was talk enough when we got out that mornin', and some of the folks thought we ought to 'pint a committee to ask Miss Ormsby about it, but brother Ralph said 'No; if they was goin', let 'em go peaceable,' so they all agreed to say nothin' at all.

"We heard afterwards from little Johnny Hall, who was playin' near the parsonage late on Saturday afternoon, that Mr. Ormsby brought the biscuits out in a big basket, and then Miss Ormsby she helped him to stick them on the pickets, and she laughed all the time, as if it was a good joke.

"I don't want to judge anybody, but I never did think that woman was fit for a minister's wife, and I don't think so now.

"Well, they moved off, bag and baggage, on Wednesday of that week, and we've never heard from Mr. Ormsby since, and I don't know as we want to, seein' as he hurt our feelin's so, though we've never found as good a preacher as he was, and never will."

And this was Miss Melissa's story.—Mrs E. T. Corbett in Harper's Magazine for November.

The complaints of closeness in monetary matters which is occasionally made is not at all general, nor does it come from the people in trade who as a rule are on a better financial footing than usual.

The week now past has been one of less excitement in business circles than in the political world. So far as events have yet transpired the election has not affected commercial or financial affairs in any important sense, and the opinion being general ... that so far as the policy of the government in regard to the obligation of the nation to its creditors is concerned will not be materially changed no matter who is elected. We may expect that when once the excitement attendant upon the settlement of the question of who is President has subsided, business will resume its wonted channels.

General trade in the local market has undergone but few changes the past week. Wheat has advanced about 2½ cents per cental; provisions are more plentiful in supply and lard has declined ½c cents per lb.

Telegrams from San Francisco denote a marked upward tendency in that market with an advance of 10 cents per cental. The rise is induced by war news from Europe.

The trade circular of a leading firm in this city issued to-day, says:

The San Francisco refineries have advanced the price of sugars ¾ of 1 cent per lb. All white sugars 1¼ c per lb and syrup 5c per gallon. We see no reason for the advance, except the fact that refineries had the power to do so and did it. We have to 'grin and bear it' and shall expect our patrons to do the same.

The refineries have 'the power to do so' because they have contracted with the planters in the Sandwich Islands for about four fifths of the entire sugar crop of those Islands and consumers on this coast are not likely to be benefited but rather injured by the operation of the treaty, of which much was thought at the time.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship Geo W Elder sailed for San Francisco at 6 o'clock this morning.

The Br ships Corlie and Herefordshire are rapidly receiving their cargoes of wheat.

The Br ship Crowsbridge, which arrived in port this morning, is anchored in the stream, and another vessel, name not given, is reported coming up the river.

Liverpool Grain Market.

LIVERPOOL, Nov 17—The leading grain circular says: Uneasiness on the subject of Eastern affairs is increasing. The grain trade again has assumed considerable firmness, with a tendency to advance. The value of foreign wheats are generally held for more money while British in some cases realizes an improvement of 1s per quarter for dry parcels. The renewal of mild weather with much rain causing the bulk of deliveries to arrive in bad condition. On spot sales without any marked activity importers have obtained an advance of 1d per cental. Maize has been quiet and rates barely maintained. Our fresh arrivals during the past three days have been extremely limited, and the quantity of wheat now on the passage to the United Kingdom is nearly 2,000,000 quarters, which is more than half California, the great bulk of which is for distant arrival, consequently our only supplies must remain very moderate. To-day the market was more numerously attended than is usual on Fridays and wheat had free sale at an advance of fully 1d per cental on Tuesday's currencies. Flour sells readily for rather more money. Corn was in moderate request, the turn favoring the sellers.

LIVERPOOL, Nov 17—Breadstuffs firm, except for corn which is dull at 25s 9d@26s for new mixed; wheat, 10s 4d@10s 9d for average California white; 10s 6d@10s 9d for club; 9s 2d@10s for red Western spring. Receipts of wheat the past three days are 12,000 quarters from American ports.

WILLIAM ROBERTSON, Iron Merchant, Dundee
D. S. LITTLEJOHN, Solicitor, Dundee
ALEX. THOMPSON, Shipowner, Dundee.

OBJECTS.

This savings Bank has been formed at the desire and under the auspices of thirty one gentlemen citizens of Oregon and Washington Territory who have become stockholders therein along with certain other gentlemen in Scotland to supply a want hitherto much felt, namely an Institution where, similar to those in California, the working farming and other classes of Oregon and Washington Territory may from time to time deposit their various savings along with the Bank's own capital for investment in Oregon and Washington Territory (to which the Bank's operations are limited) secured from Mortgages over City Properties, Farming and other Lands for the purpose thereby of assisting to develop the industries of the North Pacific coast.

The Bank's Directors and Officers in Oregon having had considerable experience in finance and real estate securities their policy will be to guard depositors' moneys and the stockholders' capital by loaning only on first class securities, high interest being a secondary consideration. The Bank does not therefore seek to employ its funds in a commercial banking business, confining its operations strictly to those securities with which its Directors are familiarly acquainted, such as real estate loans, advances on bonds, assignments and similar securities which are not fluctuating in value, hence no loans will be made on Promissory Notes alone or Bills of Exchange and such like.

Security to Depositors.

The security for repayment of Depositors' moneys is two fold.

1st. Not only the mortgages, assignments, bonds and other pledges on which the Bank's deposits are carefully loaned and the real estate secured thereby, which must be located in Oregon and Washington Territory, but also

2d. The Bank's own $300,000 capital specially pledged for the safety of depositors in order that all losses (if any) shall be made therefrom, thus forming a double security for depositors' moneys.

No charge for entrance fee or pass books.
Deposits received from $2 50 and upwards.
Rates of interest on application.
Hours from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Certificate of Incorporation, Constitution, Articles of Association, Regulations and By laws for depositors, may be seen at the Bank's office.
